

In san diego, Clear Channel has bought many radio channels, making it difficult for independent channels to exist here. In addition, they pick the news and music they want to play not allowing the local people to hear a variety of opinions to become well informed. Thus we become less involved in our community. Please do not allow large companies to own anymore channels.